DEDICATION

The Senior Class of 1965 is very proud to dedicate its yearbook to our beloved friend and teacher, Mr. H. Preston Johnson.

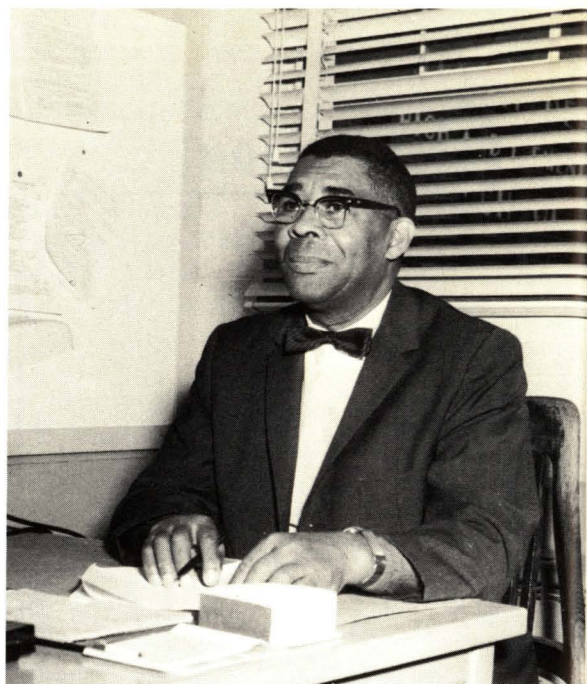

Truly, he deserves this honor for he has given many years of unselfish service for the cause of humanity. Many boys and girls have been influenced by his teachings and philosophy.

We feel that this verse is indeed befitting to this noble character and representative of the life he lives:

"To love someone more dearly every day,
To help a wondering child to find its way,
To ponder o'er a nobler thought and pray,
And smile when evening falls
This is my task."

-- The Senior Class

THE PRINCIPALS MESSAGE

I wish to congratulate you upon achieving a formal education this far. The world now is your laboratory and the educational experiences will be challenging. The opportunity will be yours to continue an education already begun. You can draw upon the experiences of man's past and apply the best to present day problems. You will need a goal, training and equipment to take you where you wish to go.

Strive for a useful and productive education: concerned with improving our democratic society. Seek solutions to our local, state, international, and world problems.

Cultivate a desire for the best living. Develop an appreciation for beauty and grow in wisdom and love of both God and man. Let the world be a better place to live by making your contribution.

CLASS PROPHECY

Washington, D.C.

February 25, 1975

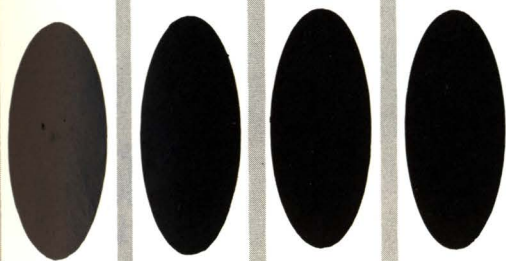

Dear Miss Hughes,

Ten years have passed since we've seen you, so I thought you'd be interested in the accomplishments of your students from the class of 1965. As you will see their accomplishments vary.

Last week a very good friend of mine, Paula Fincham, now head of her own dance studio in D.C., briefed me on some of my former classmates' occupations.

Paula informed me of the following: Charles Robinson and Henry Burke are working side by side as news-reporters for the New York Times. Annie Reid is a private secretary for James Quinn at Andrews' Air Force Base. Ann Howard is filling the same roll but she is working at Lackland Air Force Base with Edward Ferrell who is now holding the position of Captain. Garland Gee is an X-ray technician at George Washington University Hospital and is now performing his 30th skull fracture X-ray. Jack Bates is now working on one of his great masterpieces, "The Bells," which will hang beside the famous Mona Lisa at the Louve Museum in Paris. Charlyne Braxton has received a contract to redecorate the interior of the White House. Wilton Williams is head professor at Harvard University and one of his co-workers is Leon Anderson who is chairman of the science laboratory there and is working on a new discovery, "how to keep young without really trying." Elsie Williams is owner of her own beauty shop called, "Elsies' House of Magic." Betty Davis works there as a "professional pedicurist." Sharon Snyder owns a nursing home for retarded children. Linda Chapman is now performing a delicate operation on X-President L. B. Johnson. James Porter is manager of Cope Ford Car Dealers. He is now inventing a new car called "Gone With The Wind." Marshall Sprow and Lloyd Lee are chief mathematicians at Cape Kennedy Air Force Base. Marvin Fields is playing first string end for the Cleveland Browns. Wade Gaskins is preparing himself for his first flight to the moon, sponsored by Manassas Air Force Base. Jesse Harris is also holding a job there. He is a jet pilot. Peggy Peterson is president of her own business school for girls. Jacqueline Dyer is vice president of the same school. Rachel Casey has taken over Mr. Witt's position as history teacher at Jennie Dean. Udon Cheek is coach for the Cincinnati Royals basketball team. Udon is doing fine but the team has a 0-8 record. Levi Thomas, the brain of our class, is doing very well. He is president of General Electric Appliance Corporation. Napoleon Wicker is a General in the Armed Forces. Barbara Dowell is an accountant at Johnsons' Law Firm in Texas. Mac Arthur Burrell is owner of his own company "Burrell Electronics." Beverly Davis is working at Goodson Elementary School in Washington, D.C., as a fourth grade teacher. That is the school in which I am principal. It is hard work but it brings many rewards. I was deeply moved by my classmates achievements and I'm sure you feel the same.

Sincerely yours,
Hazel Porter

OUR CLASS SONG

We the class of "65" shall ever strive
 For success and for happiness
 Through the years and the years to come.
 Climb the ladder to success, swim the
 Ocean to our goal.
 We the class of "65" shall never forget
 How much you've done for us.
 We love thee so, our faith in you will stand
 Our guiding light.
 Our faith in you will stand
 Our guiding light.
 Our faith in you will stand
 Our guiding light.

 Elsie Williams

CLASS HISTORY

The history of the class of 1965 is so dramatic and colorful, that it resembles a play -- one of those plays that so skillfully disregards all the rules of drama.

So now we pause, to review the memories of our cherished days at J.D.

The discovery of the class of 1965, was an accident. Five years ago, early on the morning of September 8, 1960, the teachers of Jennie Dean High School were strolling aimlessly through the corridors, chatting about the just-ended vacation and wondering whether there would be any startling changes in their work during the coming year. Suddenly they caught a glimpse of something new and strange. Just inside the auditorium, huddled together in mute embarrassment and anxiety, were the members of what became the class of 1965. To the casual eye, we seemed merely a group of ordinary boys and girls, well dressed, reasonably good-looking, and badly frightened. Gently attempting to dispel our fears, the faculty bade us to enter and spend the next few weeks attempting to gain our confidence and friendship.

Our discovery having been reported to the Principal of the school Dr. C. N. Bennett, we were welcomed by him.

We were divided into small groups and assigned different adventures. We were given a name, "Greenies" and became a part of the school life.

During the first month of that year, we suffered much inconvenience. Because of our unfamiliarity to the school, we were forever taking the wrong turns, finding ourselves in the wrong corridor and arriving at our classroom half an hour late. Because of this, we incurred heavy penalties.

With the coming of the next September we received a new name. Because of our skill in acquiring the customs of the school, we were renamed, "Freshmen" and the process was called by a customary name, promotion.

This year was similar to our first year, but easier.

Our third year was just about the same. Our class officers were: Presidents, Paula Fincham and James Quinn, Secretaries, Ann Howard and Hazel Porter, Treasurers, Mac Auther Burrell and Sharon Snyder, Chaplains, Morris Thornton and Cherry Grayson.

In our fourth year owing to an old educational custom we became Juniors and our promotion increased out of all due proportion.

This was a year of hard work, and the dreaded ordeal of examinations. Also, so very special to us was giving the Junior-Senior Prom. Which everyone enjoyed. We were proud. Our class officers were: Paula Fincham, President, Udon Cheek, Secretary, Levi Thomas, Chaplain, and Wade Gaskins, Treasurer.

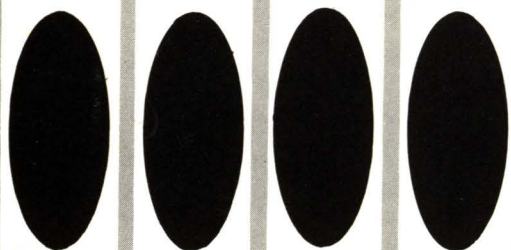

Now we come to the fifth and greatest year in the history of our class our Senior year. To head our class, our officers are: Paula Fincham, President, Hazel Porter, Secretary, and Marshall Sprow, Treasurer. Our action was more rapid and more complicated than the preceding years. We were honored to have, Hazel Porter, a senior, represent the Senior High School as Miss Homecoming of "1964-65." Our hearts grow weak as the year closes on us.

At last, the fatal hour arrives, and final examinations come before us. The attack of us was brave and well organized. The result of concentration is apparent.

To a man -- and a woman we the class of 1965 emerge victorious.

It may be that we have erred on the side of restraint in writing this history. So we take the opportunity to say now, that in our far from humble opinion the class of 1965 is the best all around class of any known to the history of Jennie Dean and we hope we will always be remembered by the faculty and our under classmates as "that wonderful class of 1965."
